Well
Dear
You probably won't believe a word I'm going to say, but I really think you are a real Doll, your fun to be with and I wish that I would have known you better before. you did a very good job last night & I loves ya!
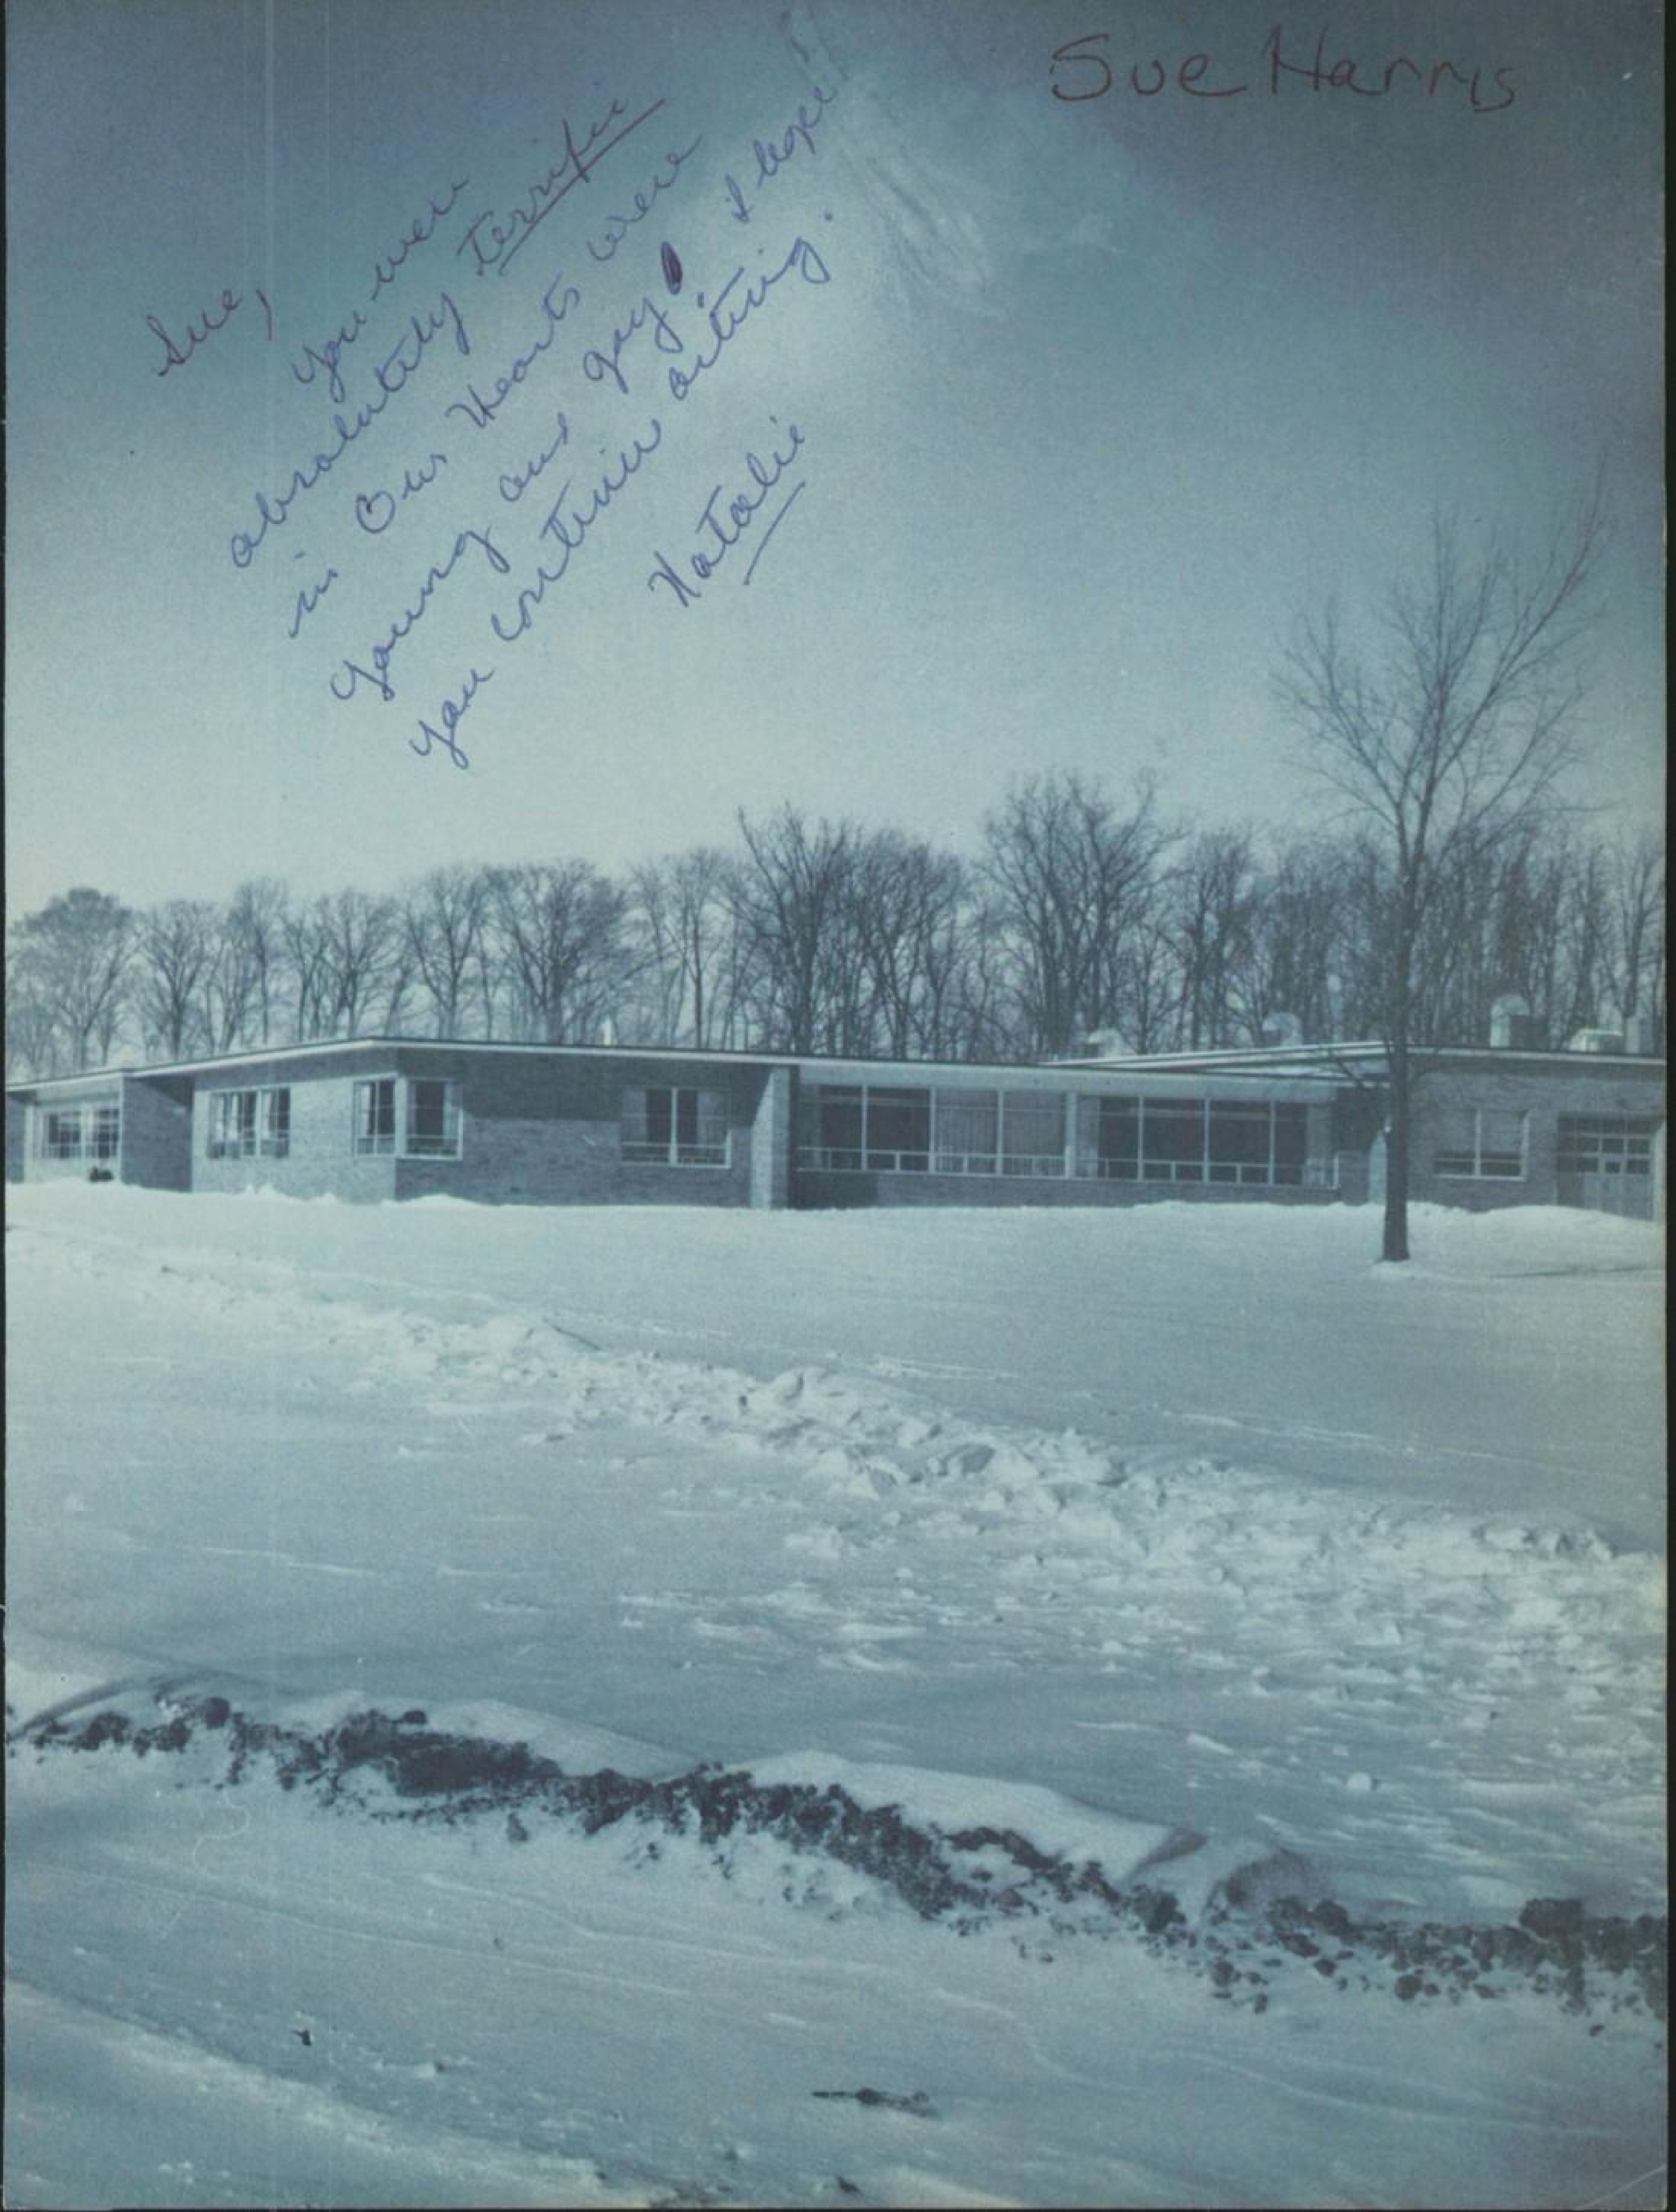
Love,
Dick Peltier



Sue Harris

Sue,
You were absolutely terrific in Our Hearts were Young and Gay! I hope you continue acting!
Natalie

Sue,
I don't suppose we'll ever forget our wonderful year in Latin.
but I must admit that choir was fun. I certainly hope that we are in some classes together next year. I'm so glad that I got to know you this year. You're a real doll and a Latin whiz (what more could anyone ask for)
Lots of luck in everything.

Nancy K.

Sue - I am glad I met you this year. How do you like Latin? Have fun this summer and good luck next year.

Judy Boyle
"65"

Sue —
It was a real "blast" as class officers this year (With Mrs Cossey + Mr. Stowe - fine Sponcers Ha Ha!)
see you next year.

Ed Porter

Sue,
It's been fun in homeroom this year. Maybe we'll be in some classes together next year. Have fun this summer.

Walt Haney

P.S. I realize this is very usual + quite trite but you haven't given me enough time to think. I'm a slow-thinker

Sue —
Very Glad that I got to know you this year Hope to see you this summer.

Doug "Shaf"

P.S You did a good job as secretary this year.

Sue -
It seems everywhere I turn there is another Sue, but I'm certainly glad this one turned up in Elsingers. Have even more fun
next year

EAST LANSING HIGH SCHOOL . . .

Sue, Plays are always great fun
But this year's all school play even more fun because I was working with you. It was a real inspiration eventhough at times you had problems keeping a straight face. Since you'll be here next fall I wish you lots of luck
Bruce Palmer

Sue—To a real cute gal who did a wonderful job as Secretary.
I hope I see you this summer.
Next year will be a riot as we RULE as mighty Seniors!
Luck always—Mary [illegible]

Dearest Sue (my fellow contact-wearer) Well another year has been wrecked because I've known you. Oh well in every life some rain must fall. I will never forget the play; wet-head. Those propheaps were marvelous patch. (Sheik, peace prize)
And Sheik neverrr forgetch Mmmmm Pufffuh.
Sheik was simplyeh MARVELOUS.
~~I really learned alot~~. You're just a marvelous girl please don't let your taters dangle!

Sue,
Well, we have been in "Oklahoma," "Our hearts Were young and Gay" and Gl-singers together. That's pretty good considering that we are in different classes. I really have enjoyed doing these things with you (I can tell you now that they are over)
Best of Luck
John Moreland

Dearest Susan V. Harrissss,
May you alway walk in sunshine for the kindnesses you have shown me in classes, and in that play when I had the lead in true artistic Brilliance. You should be greatful to me for Even~~ing~~ acknowledging your Existance. I Expect you to kiss my Shoes at the End of this year — P.S. The first part is meant in all Solemnity.

Sue
Have a real nice summer!
and be good Best of luck
ann 'lele'

Sue,
To a real sweetie!
Best of Luck in everything you do.
Debbie Irish

It was quite a year, 1962-1963 . . . and this year's Ceniad is devoted to recording it.

It was quite a year, quite a year . . . one which saw James Meridith's fight to get into Ole Miss . . . the Cuba crisis . . . the 1962 elections, which gave us such men as Scranton and Teddy Kennedy . . . the Bosa Nova, the Pop-eye, and even the Monster Mash were replacing the Twist . . . and, since "Cleopatra" hadn't come out yet, thanks to the escapades of Liz Taylor and Richard Burton, we had to settle for "Son of Flubber"—or perhaps "Phaedra."

It was quite a year in the school, too . . . Seniors were undergoing major collision phenomena with the new PSSC physics, and honorable Seniors were also taking our first Honors English course . . . East Lansing's top-rated football team humiliated Sexton, 35-6 . . . and the similarly-top-rated hoopsters went undefeated . . . the debaters had a sparkling 9-3 first season record . . . on the less happy side, Mr. Kinney, Mrs. Johnston, and Mr. Pulley all suffered severe accidents, but they fortunately made fairly quick recoveries . . . and, last but certainly not least, Mr. Steiner shaved his mustache!

This, then, was 1962-1963 at ELHS, and we hope that this Ceniad has helped to capture it.

FACULTY

Sue -
you really did a great job this year in the play and everything else you did. Keep it up and have a good senior year next year!
Lynn Seeley

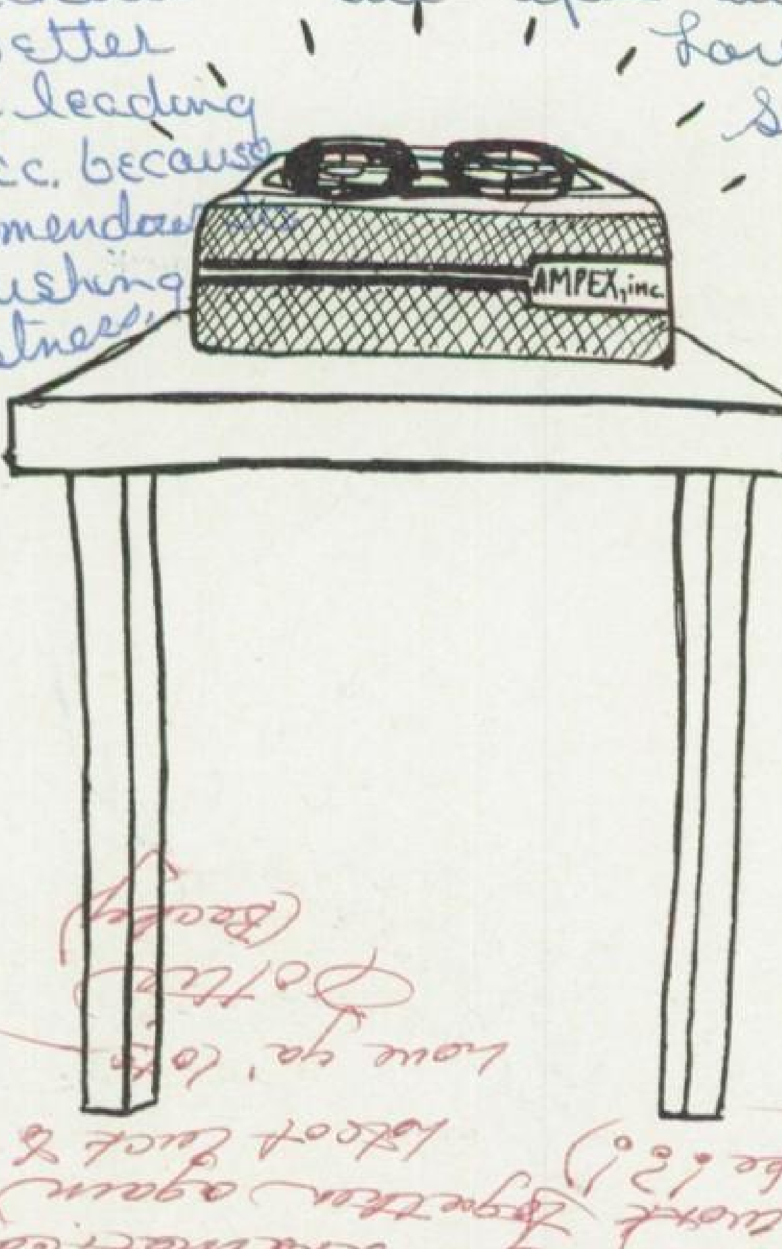
WELL - SUE - you might not believe this but this is as hard to write as it is to read. Don't work to hard - this summer and stay healthy! I want you to be the same when I come back from North Carolina as you are right now.
Love,
Edie

BEGIN

Sue -
you're a real spark, thats the most descriptive word I can think of. "Dynamic" is another one, but its so common. Please stay as sweet and frank and amazing as you are. Have a wonderful senior year Sue - you sure deserve it
Love
Sunday

Susie - You have been the one saving factor of Choir I don't know how I could have tolerated it without ya. Maybe its better that you're not leading the class as dec. because you will be a tremendous staying behind pushing our class to greatness.
Love
Paula



Sue Harris —
Well, this is the end of our 3rd (and I hope not final) year of friendship!!! We've worked on a lot of things together — and I've really enjoyed all those times! I think you are a WONDERFUL girl who has a LOT of TALENT — both singing & dramatically!! I hope next year we can work together again (in the All School musical — maybe!?!)
Lotsa luck to one of my BESTEST friends —
Love ya' lots Dottie

It's a topsy-turvy world we live in, and learn in.

SENIORS

Sue (René), Because you're in my French class and have shared along with me and the others the burdens of
"Au Pays", "Emile", "Bottke", +
"Petit Prince", I have decided to forego the usual charge for signatures in underclassmen annuals. Good luck next year in all the important things you do and in French also -
- Robert (Hilbreth)

Sue -
you funny thing, it's been a riot in Elsingers & elsewhere.
I've put up with a lot of guff from you, you punk!
(Heh, heh). No, seriously, basically you're an all-right kid, even though you are a Junior. Don't let this place fall apart completely without us next year.
Take it easy!
- Patty P.

Sue,
Well, school is out and I know its hard for you to leave. Just remember that in only 3 months you'll walk down those ivy halls again.
Just keep thinking about school and you'll always be happy!

Sue,
Well another year down the drain! Really it has been a riot!
If we're lucky we might even end up in French IV together!
Be good this summer
&
see ya next year Eileen

Sue,
You're great!
I hope next we can be in some class next year. I enjoyed your preformance in the all school Play and I hope you can be in all the plays next year.
Love ya
Trisha

P.S.
Don't be good this summer
(it isn't worth it)

Sue,
I really don't know what to say. We've had such fun this year in everything we've done.
French and History have been interesting (ha, ha) in spite of our unfortunate teachers.
It was a great pleasure to work with you in council and I think you're one of the most outstanding girls I know.
It seems that everything you do, you do well and with a smile.
Have fun this summer at Interlochen and let's have a riot next year.

Becky (Yvette)

Sue,
you're really very cute. It's that personality of yours. It's fantapulously groova!! (You don't understand do you?) Anyway — you served our class well.
You have a great voice & you're a lot of fun don't

The class of 1963 entered East Lansing High School a sunny (we think) September day four long years ago. The school looked mighty big, and we felt pretty small—but not for long! Ably guided by our officers Bob Peterson, president; Judy Elliott, vice president; Jamie Haley, secretary; and John Moreland, treasurer, and helped by our sponsors, Mrs. Ramant, Mr. Seim, and Mr. Walsh, the Class Council had an impressive year. The freshmen were undefeated in football and basketball, led to victory by our Frosh cheerleaders, Jo Bowerman, Joey Heckert, Cheryl Hodge, Mary Lou Jupp, Kitty Matters, and Nancy Stickle. Our Student Council representatives, Bob Borosage, Jomp Holland, and Judy Patriarche, made important contributions to the improvement of the school. As June 1960 rolled around, we were already looking forward to becoming Sophomores.

A year later we were, of course, older, more experienced, and eager and able to go on to bigger and better things (Julius Caesar) and the eternal mysteries of plane geometry, for instance. Our class sponsors, Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. Norris, and Mr. Stowe, and our Sophomore officers, John Moreland, president; Chuck Stoddard, vice-president; Nancy Stickle, secretary; and Jack Seaman, treasurer, led the way for a highly successful year for the Class Council. We boasted a very popular Sophomore prom, Monte Carlo, and our St. Patrick's Day class party was also a big success. To the Student Council we sent Bob Borosage, Jomp Holland, Jamie Haley, and Bob Peterson. Our reserve cheerleaders, Anne Berg, Georgeanne Dickson, Joey Heckert, Vicki Henry, Bettie Jupp, and Mary Lou Jupp, led our teams to undefeated or winning seasons. We topped the year off with a class picnic at that perennially favorite spot, romantic East Lansing park.

In 1961, the Twist and the Social were big, a new President was inaugurated, Minnesota upset the Spartans' Rose Bowl hopes, and we were now the Mighty Juniors. In addition to managing class affairs successfully, we were now practically running the student affairs in the school. The Student Council had both a Junior Veep and Secretary, Bob Borosage and Jamie Haley, respectively, for the first time in many years, and they were ably assisted by representatives Jo Bowerman, Jomp Holland, Jo Ivey, Bob Peterson, Tom Price, and Nancy Stickle. Our class officers Jomp Holland, president; Ed Church, vice-president; Karen Kierstead, secretary; and Jack Seaman, treasurer; led the class to a great year which saw us win first in everything from the Homecoming float to the Christmas tree contest. Mr. Stowe and Mrs. Cossey were our sponsors. The J-Hop, Midnight in Manhattan, complete with peppermint bandstand, was a swinging smash, as were the two class parties. The juniors boasted a standout record in athletics, too. Ann Berg, Georgeanne Dickson, Joey Heckert, Vicki Henry, Bettie Jupp, Mary Lou Jupp, and Jean Stanley cheered the Varsity teams to victory, and other juniors were doing just as well on the field as off it. In addition to the basketball team winning honors as fourth All-State team, Jim Hornberger was chosen All-City fullback. Bruce Long won a regional championship in wrestling, Jim Votruba shattered mile relay records right and left, and Bob Borosage and Tom Higbee were regional doubles champs in tennis. Scholastically the juniors were also tops. Jo Ivey and Mark Killingsworth won East Lansing's two spots in the National Council of English Teachers competition, Mark gaining a national spot as runner-up; and Paul Barrett, Bob Borosage, Mark Killingsworth, Becky Logan, and Suzanne Speck gained Semi-finalist ratings on the National Merit scholarship qualifying test. The Junior-Senior Banquet, which we turned into a Lea-Lea Luau, topped off another successful year (although we ended both the banquet and the year Senior Spadeless).

Our Senior year started off on a September morning that was muggy outside and active inside the school. In the course of the year, we were to learn that "Big Girls Don't Cry," what an oligopoly is, and how much fun the senior privilege can be. We elected Ed Church, president; Tom Price, vice president; Nick Waite, secretary; and Jim Votruba, treasurer; to hold the reins for the final year of the Class of 1963. Under their leadership we moved forward with great vigor, and from the absolute chaos of building the Homecoming float to that unforgettable Roaring '20's party (and afterwards!), Mrs. Lucas and Mr. Pulley were our sponsors. The Council's activities were successful and fun. The Student Council gained greatly from the experience and wisdom of its all-senior panel of officers; Bob Borosage, president; Jo Ivey, vice president; Jamie Haley, secretary; Judy Patriarche, treasurer; and Mark Killingsworth, parliamentarian; and senior representatives Jo Bowerman, Tim Cross, Jomp Holland, Ann Kerrey, John Moreland, and Sue Plesscher. In football, the mighty Trojans were South Central Conference champs for the second year in a row, and the mighty Seniors, in the person of such dedicated players as Jim Hornberger and Steve Jones, both All-City, were the reason why. From "It's Roy . . . . Our Boy!" to "It's Gus . . . . for US!" was only a space of a few weeks for our cheerleaders, Anne Berg, Joey Heckert, Vicki Henry, and Jean Stanley, and basketball season was upon us, bringing (among others) a victory over the so-called "Big Reds" of Sexton. Seniors Bob Combs, Jim Hornberger, Rich Miller, and Bob Peterson were starters on this championship team. In ice skating, we boasted Joey Heckert and Gary Clark, who gained third place in the National Figure Skating Championships at Long Beach, California. Academically we also had some champions. Ron Evans won a silver medal in the annual Michigan Mathematical Prize Competition. Paul Barrett and Suzanne Speck also won grants. Senior Teen Salutes Bob Borosage, Jamie Haley, Jomp Holland, Jo Ivey, Anne Kerrey, and Mark Killingsworth also deserve congratulations. In its first year, the debate team split decisions with Lakeview, Sexton, and Everett while beating Okemos and Eastern. Hugh Brenneman, Ron Evans, Roger Hansen, Mark Killingsworth, Bruce Palmer, and Tom Taylor were the senior "loudmouths" on the team.

Somehow, though, the year kept moving along, and suddenly it was Senior Prom time, that fabulous, fabled last fling, which was followed by a late-late post-prom party for all the true night people in the Class of '63 (who were in the majority that evening, needless to say). The final weeks of school were a continuous, strenuous, madcap, and very enjoyable round of senior activities: the trip, the Baccalaureate rehearsal breakfast and Baccalaureate itself, no finals for some of us (thank heavens!), Commencement, the Ceniad signing party, and the post-Commencement party. Finally, it was all over, and our high school careers were done—but we weren't! College—travel—work. The end of high school was just the beginning of something else, but we had four years of memories to recall as we started our new adventure.

This is the way we comb our hair.

I send you a wedding present.

Old San Francisco came to life in East Lansing on November 16 as the Class of 1963 presented "I Remember Mama" by John Van Druten. It was the heartwarming story of a Swedish immigrant family lovingly dominated by Mama. The entertaining plot was well received by the near capacity crowd of 800. Mr. Barr directed the cast of 22. Mrs. Cossey, with the help of the dramatics class created the turn-of-the-century scenery.

The sisters sat huddled in the empty house.

What a wonderful thing is literature.

Mama and Papa.

This is Delores.
She looks like she is a freshman, doesn't she?
In fact, she even acts like a freshman!
But she is a senior!
Isn't that funny!!
Color her funny.

This is Archibald.
He is smart.
Color him smart.
But he is not going to Harvard.
No, no, no!!!
He is going to Michigan!!!!
That is because Harvard is the Michigan of the East!
Color him maize and blue.

This is Mary.
Not of Peter, Paul, and Mary.
But almost.
She is beat.
(You might have guessed!)
Color her grey.
Color her hair gair long and stringy.
Her bongos aren't tight enough.
Her guitar is broken.
She is reading Sartre.
She ought to be reading about how to fix bongos and guitars.

This is Rodney.
He is neat.
Color him neat.

The juniors were led this year by Ed Porter as president, Eilers Beeskow as vice-president, Sue Harris as secretary, and Becky Collings as treasurer and were sponsored by Mrs. Cossey and Mr. Stowe. They were represented in Student Council by Marty Green, Steve Herbert, Dave McKeague, Mike Phillips, John Russo, and Mike Sharp. After winning the pep jug for the third year in a row, the juniors celebrated with a coke party. Each month a money-making project was planned. Two concession stands were the first of these. Their biggest dance of the year was the J-Hop, which took place in February. The Junior-Senior Banquet was given in the spring by the juniors to honor the seniors. A class picnic terminated the year.

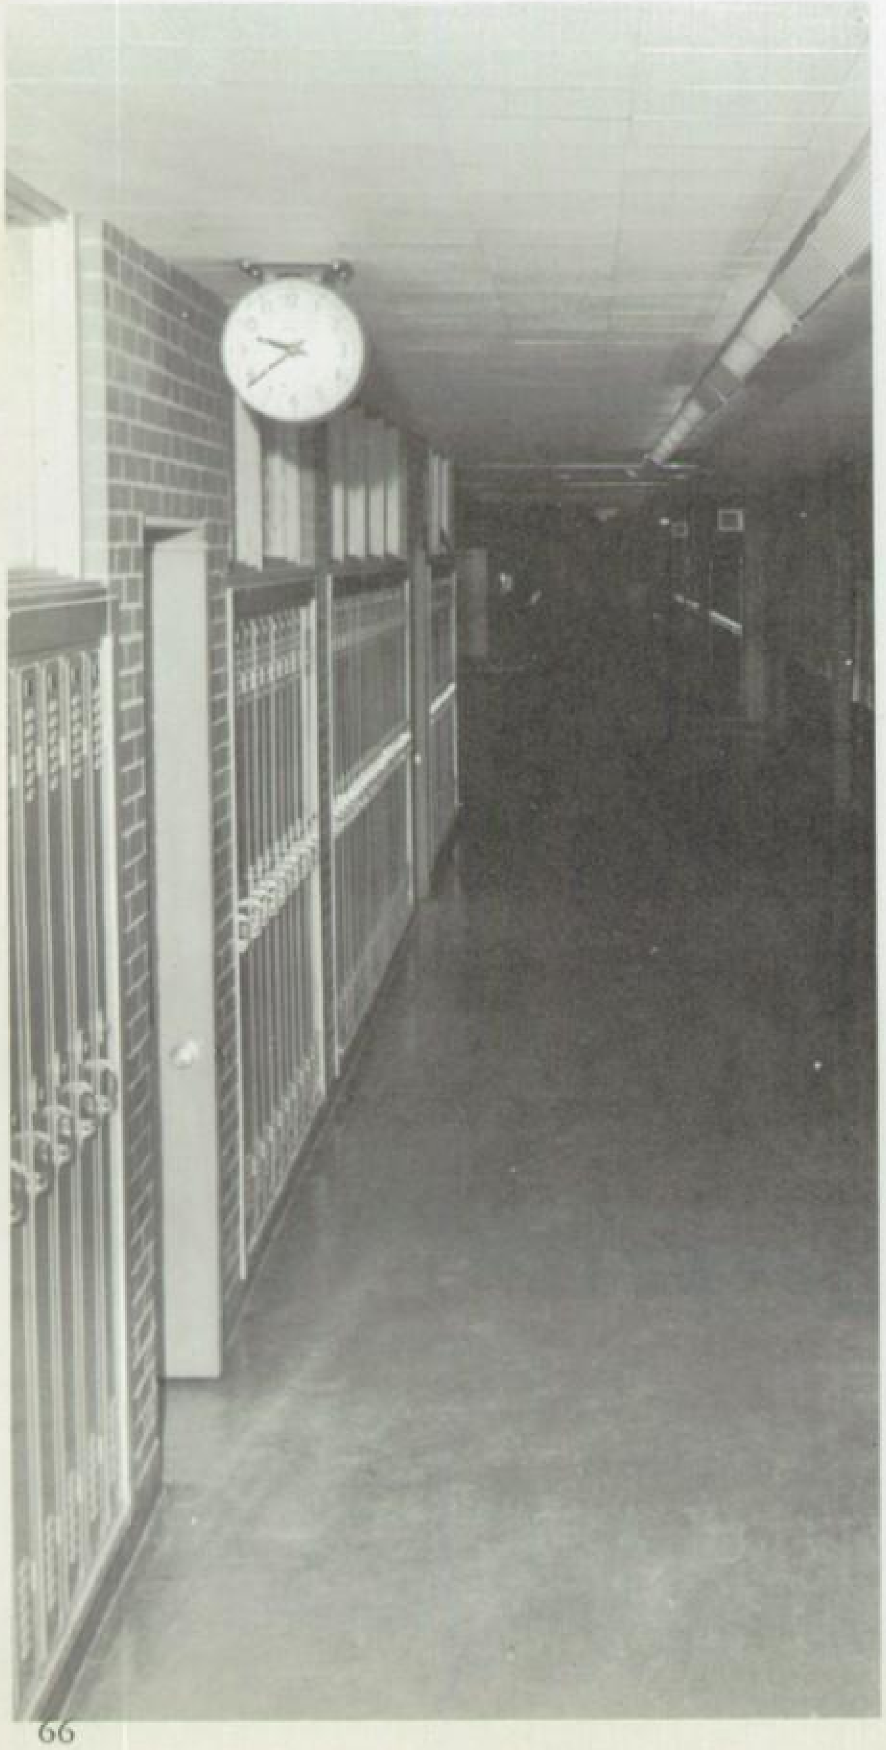
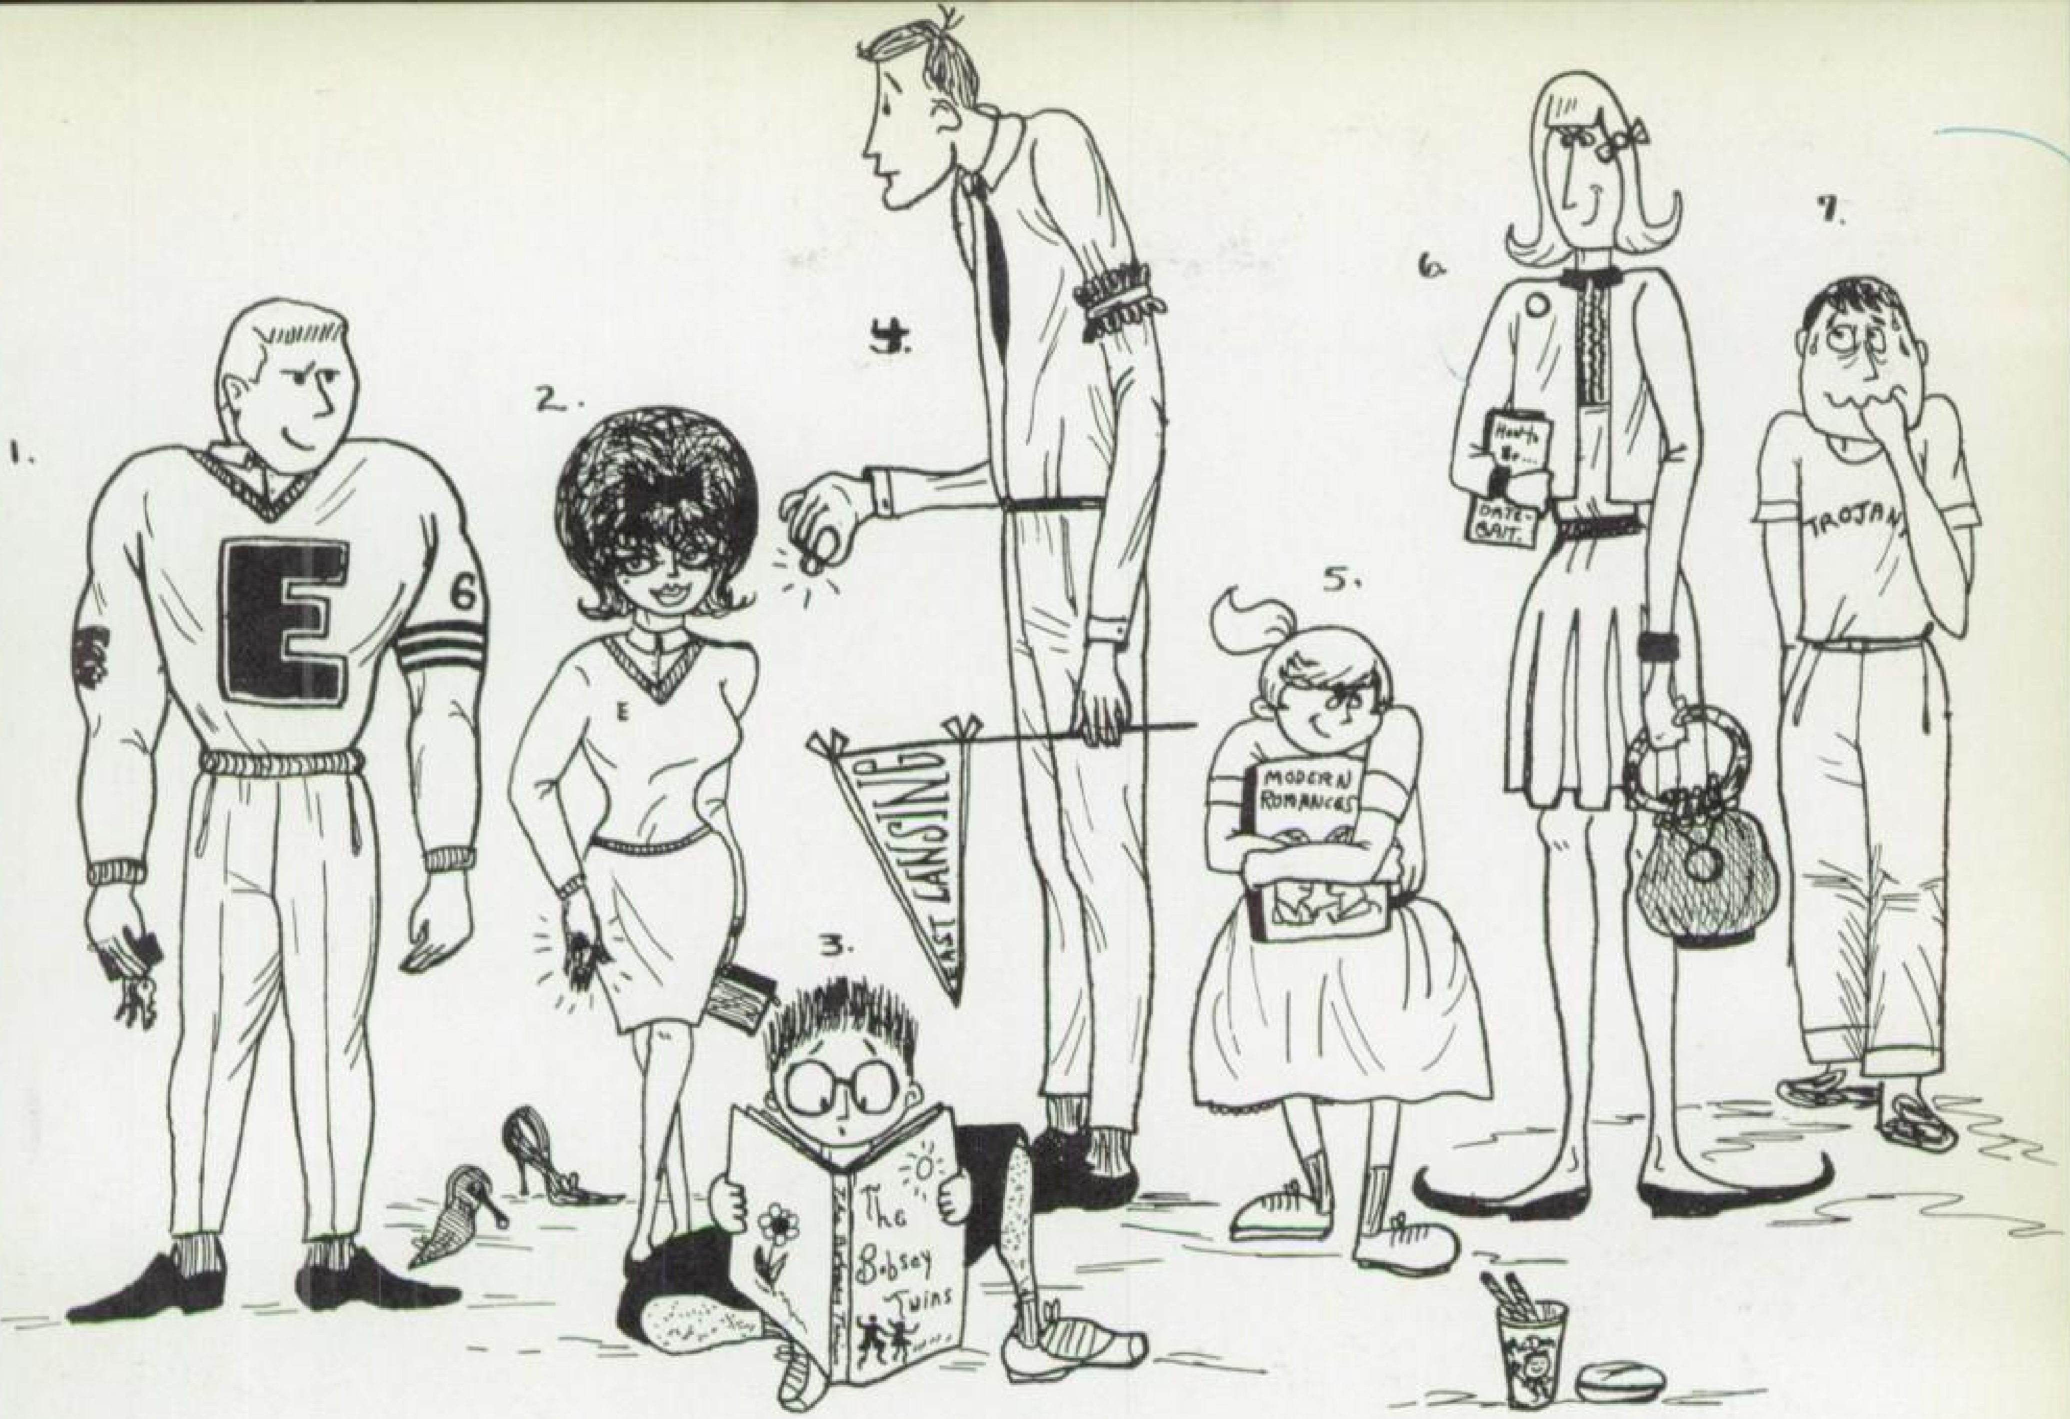
Dear Sue,

You know you're great. You're just as calm on stage as you are walking to school in the morning. Really you're going to do so much with your life with all your experience. It's great to be so talented! Your untalented friend,

Carolyn Seaman.





This is our Ath-a-lete.
He is Sharp.
He is Popular.
Color him Blue and White.
He is the Leading Ground Gainer for the team.
He is a letterman, too.
(Need you ask!)
He has a car.
No wonder!
He is twenty-two years old!

HERE she IS!!!
She is TREMENDOUS!!!!
Color her hair black!
Color her skirt blue!
Color her lips red!
Color her sweater mohair!
Color her CAREFULLY!!!

This—is Albert.
He is reading the Bobbsey Twins.
He got it from the library.
He is disturbed by it.
It will be banned.
Oh, well, back to the Carpetbaggers!

This is Holden.
Poor guy!
Color him anyway.

This is Sweetikins Hope.
She is literate for her age.
As you can see.
But she is In Love.
That is why she is flunking English.
And four other subjects.
Color her anyway.

This is Zelda.
She is literate too.
She reads that book constantly.
She needs to!
Color her hunter green.

This is Goodman D. Beaver.
He is trying to ask Zelda out.
Can he get up enough courage?
Until he does, color him shrinking violet.

Sue,
I hope you have fun this summer.
Keep laughing
See you next year. And don't do anything I would do while school is out.
Love ya.

Sophomores elected Jim Adams as president, Tina Cross as vice-president, Nancy Dillinger as secretary, and Linda Nelson as treasurer. Representatives to Student Council were Cathy Cuthbertson, Nancy Erickson, Mary Lee Guyer, Marilyn Howey, and B. J. White. Sponsoring the sophomore class were Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. Leighton, and Mr. Norris. The sophomores gave the football homecoming pep assembly and topped off the day by winning first place for their float, "Kill-'Em on Contact." They earned money through an hour dance, a concession stand, and bake sales. The "Snoopy Stomp" took place in December. The class finished the year with a picnic.

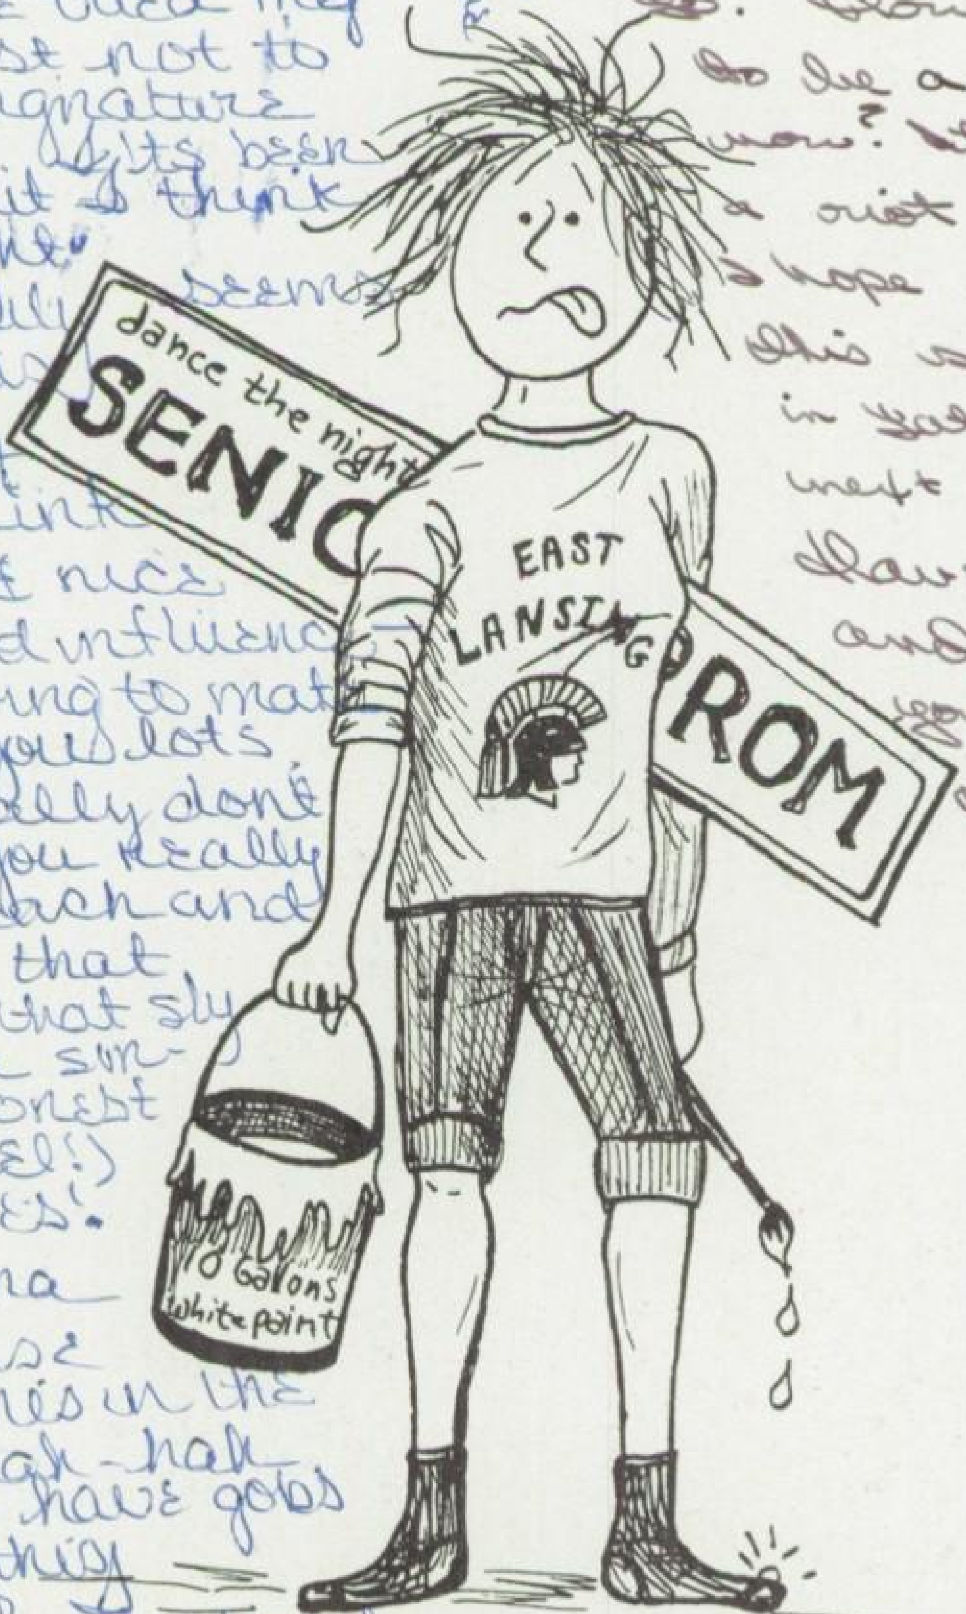
Me after working on the class party ↓



Sue,

And all your other names (stage my dear - not derogatory!) I have tried my very hardest not to hold your signature against you. It's been difficult but I think I did alright!

My family seems to have this mistaken opinion of you they think your cute & nice and a good influence - they are going to make me see you lots but I really don't mind. You really are a peach and I know that behind that sly smile a sincere, honest (but cruel!) heart lies!

Donna

P.S. Please take this in the true hah-hah spirit & have gobs of fun this summer. I DEMAND at least a post card!

Sue —

At least we're out of one year of Mrs. Bell. Only one more to go. How does it feel to be a big Senior now? It's really been a riot this year and I hope to see ya this summer and be in Latin II with you next year!

Have a sunny summer and don't loose your happy personality.

Love ya,

Jo

CHALET

The music of Ron English's band came echoing through the Swiss alps to provide a musical background for Chalet Suisse, 1962's edition of the Snowball. An old-fashioned sleigh filled with presents added a touch of Christmas to the traditional Y-Teen sponsored dance. Junior High girls cleverly added to the theme of the dance by wearing bright ski sweaters and slacks as they served the guests. General chairmen were Georganne Dickson and Rusty Huff. They were assisted by committee chairmen Stevie Bennets, Margaret Ulmer, Sue Reineke, Lynn Ecker, Marj Dethmers, Mary Ellen Moreland, Nancy Bennett, Kay Stow, Julie English and Nancy Lindell.

SAKURA

An oriental garden complete with colorful Japanese lanterns and a romantic bridge helped create the atmosphere for Sakura, the 1963 J-Hop. The oriental theme was carried out in the cafeteria as junior high girls dressed in bright kimonas served cake and punch to the couples. Barry McCardel's band provided the music for the dance, which will be long remembered by those who attended. General chairmen for the dance were Judy Covert and Mike Sharp. The committees were headed by Linda Knapp, decorations; Carol Gingras, refreshments; Nancy Atkinson, programs; Dave McKeague and Karen Stevens, tickets; Mike Phillips and Kay Stow, publicity; Beth Byerrum, invitations; Mary Bryan and Tim Murphy, band.

TALENT FOR SALE

From the moment emcee, John Potter daintily pushed a bare leg around the auditorium stage curtain to the twisting down the aisle by enthusiastic audience members to the final strains of The Stripper, the Talent Show was a smash hit. This was the first entirely student-planned, student-produced, and student-directed amateur production, although Mrs. Sharer's presence at rehearsals made it an official school production. The acts showed a great variety of talent, running the gamut from acrobatics and burlesqued ballet to a classical violin solo. Various acts were presented to Exchange assemblies at other schools.

Sue - You know that during rehearsals I wished that wouldn't break up with laughter just because I threw my play book up in the air, whipped off my glasses, leaned you over poised for a kiss and you broke out laughing - I felt like a spurned lover.

LET US MOVE FORWARD

The 1962-62 Student Council.

"Of the students, by the students, and for the students." This, in a nutshell, describes the Student Council, which represents the students to the faculty and "gets the school moving again." This year, led by President Bob Borosage, Vice-President Jo Ivey, Secretary Jamie Haley, Treasurer Judy Patriarche, and Parliamentarian Mark Killingsworth, the Council kept up its activities of former years and added some significant new ones.

Each year the Council promotes a large number of activities ranging from social life to internal reforms of the Council itself. Jo Ivey and Mary Bryan were the general chairmen of the annual Community Ball, which the Council plans and organizes each year with the Trojan Triangle. The Booster Club, of which Nan Refior was chairman, kept Trojan spirit high with an ambitious and highly successful program of hall and locker signs, pep assemblies, and pep pins. All the activities of Homecoming—from the pregame parade through the halftime ceremonies to the dance after the game—were organized by Mike Sharp's Homecoming committee, and although his car had a dead battery in the middle of the parade, things went very well. East Lansing was invaded in the fall by hordes of students selling magazines, and the money raised was divided between the Council and the four classes to be used for their many projects. Ann Kerrey and Nancy Stickle were co-chairmen of the Citizenship Committee, which planned the cleanup drive and its contest between the classes to dump the most trash. Our lockers were never cleaner! Another of the committee's activities was the freshman orientation day before school started. Sue Plesscher and Anne Berg headed the Trojan Directory Committee which prepared E. L.'s buzz book. In order to acquaint the students with the Council and what it does, the Assembly Committee, headed by Mike Phillips, organized the open-council assembly; and, in order to acquaint the Council with student opinion, a poll on the Council was conducted in the fall.

EL's "Executive Branch."

The Community Ball chairmen are looking forward to it!!

"Did you say, 'End the season right'?"

"How much bread do we ask for the bread?"

WITH GREAT VIGOR

The Council also made many innovations this year. Student calendars were substituted for the yearly handbooks and were a big success; the handbooks are now issued only to new students. E. L. students contributed over 1300 cans of food to help provide Christmas dinners for needy families, and the Council wished each of the teachers a "Merry Christmas" with a note and a bag of cookies. In another charity drive, Teens Against Polio, E. L. students collected donations in exchange for loaves of bread; Jamie Haley and Collin Babcock were chairmen. "Gifted youth" was our conclusion after the Talent Show, for which Jo Bowerman headed the organizing committee; Tom Taylor did the honors as student director, picking up a lot of help from Mrs. Sharer, the faculty advisor for the show. There were several projects of note, including a scoreboard for the swimming team, the "adoption" of an American Indian boy for a year through the Save the Children Fund, and a tea and pins for students with a 3.8 or better average. Council members attended numerous leadership conferences to improve their work and planned and organized the first annual Greater Lansing Leadership Training Conference, held at E. L. Mark Killingsworth and Steve Herbert headed the Constitutional Revision committee, our own "con-con"; Jomp Holland, chairman of the Committee on Rules, had as his job to compile all the various written and unwritten rules of the school. The Student Opinion committee, another new committee, was headed by Jo Ivey. The most important innovation, however, was the "congressional" system, under which the Council was divided into three "parties": Populists, Progressives, and Independents, and these three competed to propose the most significant legislation. Written bills replaced motions, and quick party caucuses and polling replaced endless discussion. Many of the projects mentioned here, such as the scoreboard, the 3.8 pins, and the "American Indian Assistance Act of 1963" resulted.

This, then, was the Student Council By adding new programs to past policies it has indeed "moved forward with great vigor."

From the homeroom report . . .

. . . to the Booster Club, the Council's activities are many.

"Is it 'i' before 'e' or . . . "

"Y' know what? He can't add!"

The objective of the editors is to produce a paper which expresses the personality of the school it represents.

NO NEWS IS BAD NEWS

The Trojan Trumpet, the ELHS newspaper, records the events, opinions, and activities of East Lansing High School. Its aim is to present an accurate picture of the school to the community and to other schools while giving its staff an opportunity to learn more of journalism.

The Trumpet, published monthly, is sponsored by Miss Cuff and Miss Findley. The editorial staff includes Julie English, editorial editor; Janina Bielenski, feature editor; Pat Bedford, news editor; and Paul Barrett and Chuck Atkin, co-sports editors. Special writers and columnists were Ann Kerrey, Becky Logan, and Judy Elliot;; Bob Borosage was the Student Council columnist.

In addition to these editors and special writers, the staff includes over twenty reporters and several typists.

The Trumpet is a member of the Columbia Press Association and has a charter of Quill and Scroll, an international, journalism fraternity for high school students.

The paper has received a "Medalist" rating by Columbia Press, a first-class rating by Quill and Scroll and has received the Central Michigan Highest achievement award given by the State Journal and Delta Sigma Chi journalism fraternity.

Activities during the year include a visit to the High School Journalism Day at M.S.U., money making projects, and discussions and work periods concerning different aspects of journalism. The officers this year are Julie English, president; Paul Barrett, vice-president; and Janina Bielinski, secretary-treasurer. Sponsoring the club are Miss Cuff and Miss Findlay.

Jim Adams, Hugh Brenneman, Ron Evans, Bill Hamilton, Bruce Palmer, Marilyn Rall, and Tom Taylor also debated, varsity and reserve.

NOTHING TO HIT BUT THE HEIGHTS

Students who are interested in the stage comprise the Senior Drama Club. Some of the basic elements of dramatics were introduced by such activities as pantomimes, monologues, and physical exercises designed to increase stage presence. Highlighting the activities of the year was the presentation of a series of cuttings done by individual groups for the other drama clubs. Members enjoyed speakers, films, and a visit to the Eastern Drama Club. Mr. Barr is the sponsor of the club. Officers this year were Rick Larson, president; Collin Babcock, vice-president; Ellen Kolemainen, secretary; Ann Featherstone, treasurer; and Stevie' Lill, scribe.

S.P.Q.R.

"When in the Junior Classical League, do as the Romans do," is the slogan of the E.L.H.S. league members. This national organization which was originated to provide students with an opportunity to learn more about ancient civilizations and to promote a greater interest and depth in the study of classical languages rates Michigan, with its membership of over 7,000, as second highest in the United States. About 1300 representatives from the various clubs, including the one at E.L.H.S., attended the national convention in Lawrence, Kansas, this year. The state convention, which meets alternately on the Michigan State University and University of Michigan campuses, was attended by several students from this league. Carolyn Seaman, a junior, was state historian this year.

Locally, this group engages in various activities typical of ancient Roman times. Uniting with Lansing Latin Club members, they took part in a Roman festival, at which skits were presented and members were awarded prizes for the best costumes. The annual Latin banquet was the high point of interest and activity. Second-year and former Latin students, clothed as Roman emperors, senators, and soldiers, attended a slave auction where they purchased the services of a slave for the evening. Who were the slaves? The first-year Latin students, of course, who in subsequent years will have their opportunity to become a master.

Heading the group were Jim Buschman, president; Carolyn Seaman, vice-president; and Natalie Fox, secretary-treasurer.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN SPANISH WITHOUT REALLY TRYING

The Spanish Club is composed of students who are interested in the study of Spanish and the cultures of the Spanish-speaking people in the world and who want to strive onward and upward in their knowledge of Spanish. Highlight of the year was a Christmas party celebrated in the traditional Spanish manner with a pinata. The group enjoyed speeches given by students and persons of the community who had visited Spanish-speaking countries. Mrs. Rodner is the sponsor of the club. Assisting her were Rose Swart, president; Sandra Bickel, vice-president; Penny Stewart, secretary; and Ann Lectka, treasurer.

MASTER MUSIC MAKERS

The full Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Bartlett, is composed of the string orchestra and wind players from the Wind Ensemble. The East Lansing Symphony Orchestra, considered one of the best in Michigan, performed in the Mid-Winter Concert, the Spring Concert, the Band and Orchestra festivals, a student assembly and a combined concert with the vocal department.

AND THE BANDS

The Activity Band, conducted by Mr. Bunch, is a band open to all instrumental students who wish to progress toward the Concert Band or who wish only to have a band experience without numerous performance obligations. Individual progress, as well as a band experience, was achieved. The Activity Band performed in the Mid-Winter Concert. Activity Band members joined with the other bands and orchestra in a Family Fun Night and the Band and Orchestra Recognition Banquet.

Marching Band

Activity Band

The Concert Band was joined by the Wind Ensemble to form the Trojan Marching Band. The Marching Band started work before school opened. At the end of the successful marching season the band was awarded with a past season banquet at the Albert Pick. At this time the Best Rank of the Year was announced. "C" rank (saxophones and French horns) won this year.

After marching season the Wind Ensemble and Concert Band performed as separate groups. The Concert Band conducted by Mr. Bunch performed in the Mid-Winter Concert, a student assembly, the Spring Concert and the Band and Orchestra festivals.

Rank "C"

The Wind Ensemble was started this year as an experiment which proved to be a very successful one. Members were chosen from the 10-12 grades on an audition basis. Because of the unwieldy size of previous Concert Bands a division into two groups was made, each with a different concept of sound. The Concert Band uses the podium as the focal point of all blended sound. In the Wind Ensemble, however, each instrument is to be heard individually.

The Wind Ensemble, conducted by Mr. Bartlett, performed in the Mid-Winter Concert, the Spring Concert, a student assembly and the Band and Orchestra festivals.

Boy's Beginning Choir

DO, RE, MI

The choral music is based on the belief that all students can become musicians provided the method of instruction is simple enough for each individual to understand, hear, and perform; and that the only way to attain a love and understanding of great music is through actual performance of the outstanding choral works of the past and present.

There are five choirs in the high school, each of which is designed to allow students to progress from one level of musicianship to the next according to their ability and experience. Besides scores of shorter choral compositions, choral repertoire over the past four years has included such major works as: A German Requiem and Liebesdieder Waltzer by Brahms; Come, Jesu, Come, Cantata No. 4, and sections of Mass in B Minor by Bach; Requiem and Te Deum by Verdi; Beethoven's Missa Solemnis; Schubert's Mass in G; Orff's Carmina Burana; Menothi's Amahl and the Night Visitors; Faure's Requiem; Britten's A Ceremony of Carols; and Pergolesi's Stabat Mater. On the lighter side the choirs have performed selections from well know Broadway shows as West Side Story, South Pacific, Carousel, The Student Prince, and The Music Man.

SWIMMING FINANCIERS

The Porpoise Club made a great splash this year! Its chief aim was to send its members to the swimming meets. It raised one hundred dollars toward the purchase of a swimming scoreboard by sponsoring a candy sale and a paper drive. As a second project, the members of this club raised sixty dollars to purchase a pool record board. Many of these projects were financed with the proceeds of the coat check, which the swimmers also manage. Mr. Hagerman is the sponsor of the club. Assisting him this year were Tom Price, president; Tim Cross, vice-president; Ed Church, secretary; and Paul Dekker, treasurer.

EL's loreleis

"Help! I'm drowning!" This is a cry that was not heard at the Monday evening swims. Mr. Carlisle's Lifeguard Club members were on hand for the sole purpose of seeing to it that disaster did not happen to less experienced swimmers. During their own club meetings, the girls practiced their water front safety skills and life-saving techniques. Mr. Condel brought Resusci-Anne to demonstrate mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Led by Pat Erler, president; Karen Lundberg, vice-president; Ann Dunn, secretary; and Kay Stow, treasurer, the girls sponsored an hour dance and a bake sale as money-making projects.

MMMARVELOUS MERMAIDS

Fishing at East Lansing High School is good this year and the Aquettes are a fine catch. The Aquettes concentrate on practicing regular swimming, improving skills in synchronized swimming, and preparing an annual water show for parents and students. The girls are even busier out of the water organizing bake sales to raise money and holding a dinner at the end of the year at which officers are elected and plans are made for the following year. They also sponsor an hour dance and concessions at a game. Heading the group are Karen Kierstead, president; Charlene Prince, vice-president; Christy Rumpsa, secretary; and Barbara George, treasurer. They include: Jack Seaman, general manager; Nic Burhans, program director; Pat Steinbaur, continuity director; and Art Seaman, traffic manager. The D. LET'S BUILD A COMPUTER

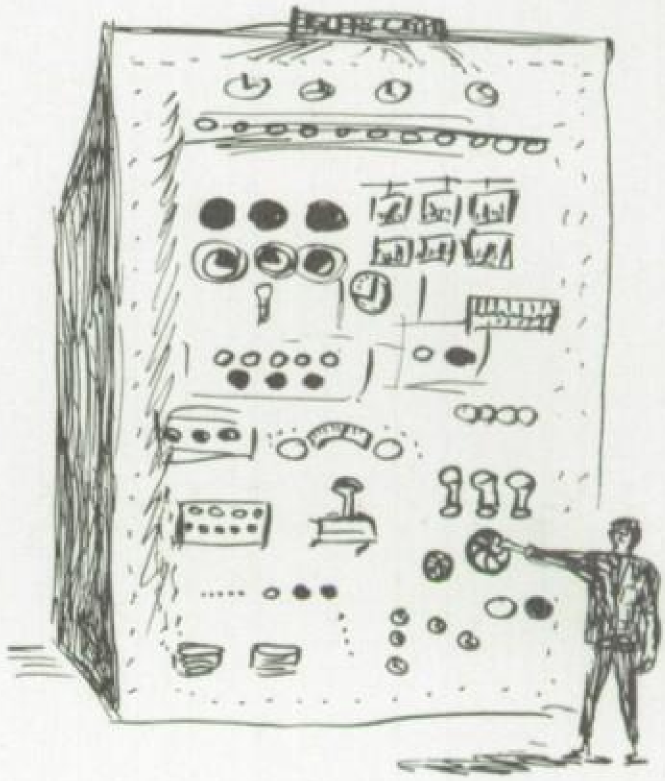
And therefore we conclude that the whole equals the sum of its parts.



If UNIVAC can do it-so can we! The building of a neon bulb digetal computer was an important project of the math club this year. When completed, the computer will perform simple and complicated mathematical processes. Speakers from M.S.U. also entertained and informed the club members. Top mathematician was Roger Williams, president, followed by John Sebeson, program chairman; Jim Krathwohl, treasurer; and Mary Lee Guyer, secretary. Mr. Douglas was the sponsor.

JET - PROPELLED

Out future physicists of America study a knotty problem.

Steady now!

How sweet it is.

Is nuclear fission your cup of tea? Does IBM send chills up and down your spine? Then join the Jets, Junior Engineering Technical Society. All scientifically minded juniors and seniors are welcome. To provide education and enjoyment for the members, the activities include speakers, films, projects, experiments, and field trips. The club has also put on assemblies which bedazzle and bewilder the audience with their fantastic experiments in sight and sound. Officers are Paul Frame, president; Steve Turk, vice-president; Kay Snyder, recording secretary; Becky Logan, corresponding secretary; and Tim Jolley, Treasurer. Mr. Sebeson is the sponsor. So? Blast off!

MANY STUDENTS

May we cure you?

Interest in nursing as a career has grown by leaps and bounds during the last few years until now there are four groups of student future nurses. All four clubs have approximately the same general aims in mind, the exploring of and gathering knowledge concerning information about the various phases of nursing and hospital work. Each group, however, has carried on activities along various lines and had engaged in different projects.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bozek, this group of Freshman Future Nurses investigated the career of nursing by planning a varied program during the year. Among the speakers entertained by the club were Dr. Hiscoe, who talked on what a nurse can expect to give to and get from the professon; Mr. Christman, who is president of the Michigan Nurses Association and in charge of the nurses at mental health hospitals; and our school nurse, Mrs. Stiles, who spoke on emergency treatment. Other programs included the study of literature on nursing and movies on mental health and alcoholism. Officers for the year were: Sue Fitzpatrick, president; Nancy Kenyon, vice president; Sue Scallin, secretary; and Chris Kerr, treasurer. Program planning was done by Sue Hiscoe.

The sophomore Future Nurses were active making Christmas tray favors for Sparrow Hospital, sponsoring a bake sale, and taking various field trips to such places as the Blood Bank and local hospitals. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bell, the club was headed by Sylvan Anttonen; president; Eileen MacLaren, vice-president; Lori Shingleton, secretary; and Vickie Walzak, treasurer.

Now this is how to prevent senioritus

This group of future Florence Nightingales is sponsored by Miss Leeman. Their officers are Pat Trescott, president; Alice Anttonen, vice-president; Barbara Snyder, secretary; and Johanna Beltz, treasurer. Learning more about the career of nursing is one of the main objectives of this club. The members also carried out service projects for the benefit of the school and community. Highlighting their work during the year was a "kiddy" show held at Christmas time in Sparrow Hospital.

THE FIELD OF NURSING

Future Mrs. Kildares

Casey and Kildare, here we come!! This is the cry of many a high school girl. And the members of the senior Future Nurses seem to be in the lead in this race. Head Future Nurses include Mary Nye, president; Rosemary Spangler, secretary; and Jean Vanden Brink, treasurer. The programs were capably organized by prospective nurse Berrie Baker. Among the club's activities were touring area hospitals and nursing homes, hearing speakers associated with nursing, giving their ever ready helping hand through the hospitals and homes, and cheering patients at holiday times. The club's purpose is to enlighten and inform girls who are seriously interested in the field of nursing.

Now this is the latest in slings!

"Carl Marx saves."

Are you a determined Democrat or a staunch Republican? It matters not, for the enthusiastic Political Forum Club welcomes all. This group under the leadership of chief politician Bruce Palmer strives to learn more about current affairs with the emphasis on politics. Their purpose was accomplished by movies and panel discussions and by challenging speeches given by men from far off Chile, Korea, and Vietnam, who pointed out the importance of politics in our world today. Other officers included Jim Adams and Sunday Smith. Their advisor was Mr. Meulendyke.

SAFETY BECAUSE . . .

Traffic officers?

"Safety in every way" is the motto of the Safety Club, and the club certainly practices it by stopping running in the halls at noon and conducting a safety check of cars. Led by Mr. Dolan, the club works hard to promote safety in and around the school. The officers of the Safety Club are Dan O'Keefe, president; Ed Lounsberry vice-president; Pam Madsen, secretary; and Nancy Mead, treasurer.

FOUR MILLION CALORIES!

Serving the students is the purpose of East Lansing High's Student Store. It dispenses paper, pencils, hair rollers, stuffed dolls and other such necessary items as well as providing students with over 4,000,000 calories of life-sustaining candy, cough drops, potato chips and other delectables.

This year the store raised approximately $1800 which went toward purchasing coat racks for the basketball games and a scoreboard for the pool. Working under the sponsorship of Mr. Johnson, the hard-working head-salesmen were Bob Lewis, Dave Skinner, Marcis Foster, Janet Dean, and Gary Potter.

SPORTS

Dearest Sue,
I'll write under sports because you're the best sport there ever was. You were a wonderful secretary, full of life, charm and responsibility. Don't change your marvelous personality. I'll never forget you as an actress! I almost died I laughed so hard! Have a marvelous summer. See you back in the fall. Keep up your sewing and your unselfish work for our class.

Sue, (Fuzzy)
I don't know what I would have done in Affi's class without you sitting next to me.
Let's play lots of tennis this summer together! When your not playing with me and everyone else try and rest. We are going to have a big job bossing the under-classmen around!

CHAMPS AGAIN

The spirit of '63 led this year's football team to a very successful and exciting season. The only loss of the season was a hard fought battle with Battle Creek Central. The Trojans won the mythical City Championship as well as the South Central Conference Championship. But the team only tells half the story; Mr. Kramer was named the Coach of the Year for the greater Lansing area. Congratulations to Mr. Kramer and a fine season.

HARRIERS POST A GOOD YEAR

The Cross Country team did very well this year even though the Varsity had only two returning lettermen and the other five men that made up the team*were in their first season as members of the cross country team. The Harriers won four of six dual meets and placed third in the All City Meet. Next the team went to the Regional meet where they did very well by placing seventh. The team captain this year was Dave Guillaume who qualified and ran in the State meet.

The dribblers enjoyed a hair-raising perfect season again this year, thus stretching their regular seasons winning streak to 39. Led by seniors Jim Hornberger, Rich Miller, Bob Peterson, Bob Combs and junior Chris Combs, the Trojans outclassed all their opponents. It was a year of tremendous shooting as the team posted an average of about 50% of their shots falling through the hoop. Not only did the basketballers have a good shooting year but they were hustling on defense. They stole the ball and out fought their opponents for rebounds even though they were outmatched in height. Congratulations to Mr. Gus and the boys.

TANKERS TAKE

1962-1963 was truly an outstanding season for the Trojan Swimmers. The team showed promise early in the season with a fifth-place finish in the Cereal Bowl Relays. With this strong showing for a start, the swimmers swept through all competition in the season to post a dual meet record of twelve wins and no losses. Added to the eight straight wins at the end of last season, the tankers own a string of twenty consecutive dual meet victories. As a topper to a season that saw seven of eleven varsity records broken, the swimmers won their second SCC championship by winning seven of eleven events, establishing four new league records.

SAME thoughts

Well, Hon, 1 more year of school gone by and 1 more year of our friendship's growth - Its a good friendship Sue, and although I feel we haven't spent the time together or been as close as we should have, but next year I promise you, I'll try to be the kind of friend I'd like people to be to me.

You were truly wonderful in "Our Hearts" sweetie, but even more grand was the way your head stayed the same size amidst all the praise! I was proud of you! and it was a real joy for me working with such a professional!!

About the darned election - I honestly feel you deserved to win Suzy, cause you were a devoted, talented WONDERFUL Sec'y for our Jr. Class and I know you would have repeated the performance next year. But keep chin up, always and give as much to we who love you, as you did this year. I can't believe we're almost Seniors ----- Its hard not to look ahead to the joys and sorrows of this time next year. It will be hard for me to leave ya, sweetie.

Promise me Suzy, that no matter what, your beautiful, happy, optomistic outlook on life will never change! Your face wouldn't be the same without your happy smile on it --- so smile always.

Now, forgive me for my viciously sharp tongue and my ugly pouting puss at times please?! I never mean to snap at ya ~~But~~ cause your friendship means entirely too much to me for that. Forgive me, you're wonderful, I love ya, I'll write every week Sue, this summer, and HAPPY HAPPY BIRTHDAY!! ——— Annie

No more Latin — No more Cuff — let's celebrate!
you've been a great friend, Sue; you're always there when I need comforting or advice.
Thanks for listening to my sad life history about Chris. Have fun with Eric this summer — I know you will!
I promise not to be so stupid next year! I hope you're in some of my classes next year so we can play 'Old maid Bell"

Hells Bells!

Margaret

Save thanks

Well - Hello ☺

Happy Birthday first of all! This really has been a fun year. They seem to get better year by year. I'm glad you're here to share them with me. It makes things much more interesting as well as great! We have so much to remember that I couldn't begin to list everything. But a few of the greater ones - play, gym, secretary, shopping trips, junior senior banquet, contacts, lunch hours, Eric, New York, Brasil, planes, chemistry, Latin etc. etc. (I forgot cuff) Today she was saying something as she gave back Jim's yearbook and I walked out. I'm really glad we have another year here. For more than one reason. It's really going to be a wonderful year for both of us. We'll have to keep doing things together as we have for the last 3 yrs. We've done so much together! ~~that~~ Say - be in council next yr. and do lots and lots of things. I know you will. Also let's be in the Senior Play and the musical. Yippee. I wish us both luck. Have fun this summer you swine ass. I really didn't mean it when I told you to go to hell.

Sue - I'm not the type that puts down all the sentimental feelings I have all welled up inside of me. It's just not like me. But ~~I'll~~ believe me. I really feel alot for you and no matter how snobby or ugly I am with you - I'll ~~all we~~ always be there. Don't forget.
